Marina development underway on Jourdan

By BRENT MACEY

A Louisiana development company—Charles Land Inc. of Harahan—has been involved for the past year on plans to build a 320-slip marina and townhouse subdivision near the mouth of the Jourdan River in Bay St. Louis.

The development firm, headed by Charles Lambert of Harahan, is in the initial stages of securing necessary permits for the enterprise, according to Dr. Richard Leard, director of the Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources in Gulfport.

A proposed 240-acre site for the development is bounded on the west by Joe's Bayou; on the north by the Jourdan River; on the south by Felicite Street; on the east by Jackson Boulevard and a line running from the north end of Thomas Street to the foot of North Beach Boulevard.

"Before any permits authorizing construction can be granted, a change must be made in the use plan categorization for the land," Leard said.

He stated the land is currently categorized as a 'G' or general district under the Mississippi Coastal Program.

Program documents define a G district as an area used mainly for recreational fishing and containing less than 15 boat slips.

"The district must be changed to a 'C' commercial district before any permit for construction can be considered for the site," Leard said.

The Coastal Wetland Program describes a commercial district as an area used for commercial fishing or recreational marinas.

Joe L. Brown Jr. of Gulfport, president of Brown Engineers Inc., consultants on the project, said the townhouse and marina units of the development actually lie above mean high tide and wetlands, although the marina entrance canal will cut through wetlands.

The BMR has set a public hearing for 6 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 6 in the Supervisors room of the Hancock County Courthouse in connection with the requested land use classification change.

Additional information may be obtained and opinions expressed by writing the Bureau of Marine Resources, P.O. Drawer 959, Long Beach, 39560.

Lambert said, "What we would like to do is build a first class marina and do it so that it would be a real asset to the area."

He said the proposed area is 'ideal,' that it is protected from winds, with a 12-foot depth in the Jourdan River precluding the need for dredging.

"There is a great need for a marina in the area," Lambert said. "There are very few public marinas and they all have backlogs of people waiting for a slip."

Lambert said that 'clusters of town houses' would surround the marina area.

"People who own or rent the houses would have a priority to rent the slips but there would still be slips for public use," Lambert said.

Lambert gave no indication of the number of proposed town houses but said there would be more slips than townhouses.

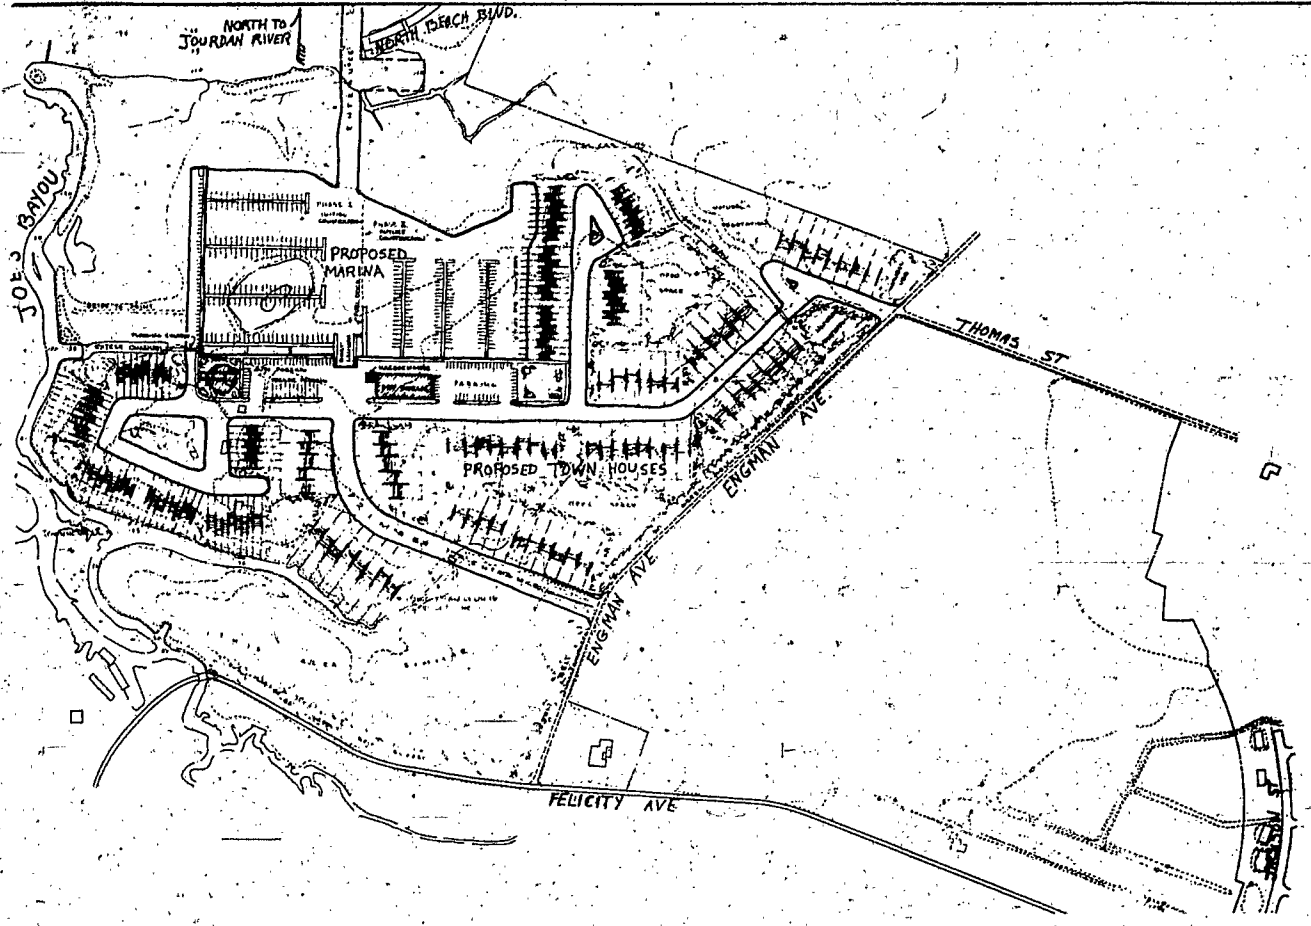

"The marina will be made available to the public," Lambert said.

Brown said, "What we would like to build is a community on the order of Diamondhead but also incorporating the public use of the marina." Brown said.

"Instead of having a community based around a golf course, we will have a community built around a marina."

Brown said the area outside the Grandfather zoning quirks to bring property owners before Bay Council Tuesday

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Merchants on South Beach Boulevard and Washington Street are bewildered over what they can expect from the City of Bay St. Louis in connection with how their business establishments are zoned.

Woodford Sellier, owner of Sellier's Sandwich Shop is unhappy about the fact he recently lost a tenant for the building on the corner of Washington Street and South Beach Boulevard adjacent to his business which he purchased four years ago from the American Legion.

Sellier stated, "I lost a five year lease at $275 per month because the person whom I was going to rent the building to was told by the city he could not get a permit because the site is zoned residential."

The city refused the new tenant a business permit since the building has been vacant for several years, and the 'Grandfather' statutes provides when a commercial building is not in use for more than six months, the site reverts to the zoning of the area, in Sellier's case R1 or single family dwelling.

Sellier said he recently appeared before the planning and zoning commission in an effort to have the zoning changed back to commercial.

That effort cost him $25 plus $1 for each property owner living within 600 feet of the building who was notified of his intentions.

"The way I understand the zoning people is that if I get no objections from the neighbors on having the zoning changed back to commercial, but then not have a tenant or use it myself for six months, the classification would again revert back to residential," Sellier said.

"Everytime I have a prospect to rent the building, they can't wait for several months to have the zoning changed."

Sellier said the building was a Standard Oil Station in 1933 when his father opened a business next door.

In later years it was a radio and television repair shop and then used by the American Legion for a Boy Scout Den before being purchased by Sellier.

"When I purchased the building which is between my store and Beach Boulevard, my insurance policy listed it as a beverage storage building," Sellier added.

The building owner continued, "The tenant went so far as to pay one month's rent in advance, put down a damage deposit, had a meter installed by the power company and even hired a carpenter to install carpet and freshen up the building."

"But when the city refused the permit, the man could not wait all the time it would take to appeal that decision, so he rented elsewhere, and I lost a good tenant. I bought the building for my own protection, as I did not want just any type of business next to my operation," Sellier allowed.

United Way campaign tops previous years

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The United Way's 1980 campaign has set a record in gifts and pledges for the campaign according to Conrad Mauffray, executive director.

"We now have a little over $36,000 in gifts and pledges with the reports received from NSTL and indications of monies to come from the Combined Federal Campaign," Mauffray reported to United Way officers and directors Tuesday.

Mauffray said the highest previous total pledges and gifts amounted to $35,000.

Dick Kosbab, 1980 campaign chair for Hancock County stated, "I am very pleased with the response of the Community for helping us make this campaign a success."

Kosbab added, "We had a goal of $40,000 this year, but, the current conditions which everyone is aware of makes us feel that we have been successful."

The United Way is supported by payroll deductions, corporate gifts, business gifts, and individual gifts.

Mauffray said there are a few more reports to come in on pledges and is very happy with this year's campaign.

J. Norton Haas, president of the United Way said, "I want to extend my sincere appreciation to everyone, no matter their task, for helping us during the 1980 campaign."

The United Way of Hancock County campaign and operating expense runs approximately seven per cent. The majority of which is used for postage and printing materials.

The Agencies supported by the local campaign are: the Hancock County Emergency Relief, Gulf Coast Mental Health, Mississippi Council of Epilepsy, Inc., American Red Cross, Hancock Chapter; Hancock County Blood Bank, Senior Citizens Programs, Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), Catholic Social Services, Salvation Army, Goodwill Industries, U.S.O. (Worldwide), Girl Scouts - Gulf Pines Council; Boy Scouts - Cypress District; and the Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund.

Haas said, we felt inflation has hit all of our agencies and that was the reason for setting the $40,000 goal in 1980.

The 1979 campaign received pledges and gifts totalling $35,000.

Kosbab stated, "We have more payroll deductions this year than ever before, and we really want to thank the employers for offering this service to their employees. Of course we have to thank those who have payroll deductions for the United Way."

Haas in using the United Way's slogan, "Thanks to you it works for all of us," before a regular monthly meeting of the officers and directors closed.

Persons interested in further information about the United Way can call Ms. C.R. Beyer, 467-5358 or write to the United Way of Hancock County, P.O. Box 142, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Fugitives elude officers; Bay man piles up charges

By ELLIS CUEVAS

An all-points-bulletin has been issued for two Hancock County residents, according to Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Peterson said the two, one 18 and the other 17, are allegedly involved in at least six burglaries in Bay St. Louis and the Bayou Phillips area.

Peterson said, "A neighbor of residents not at home in the Bayou Phillips area saw lights on in the house. He proceeded to go over to his neighbor's house and the two suspects pulled a shotgun and 30-30 rifle on him."

"This particular house had a lot of vandalism, such as papers thrown on carpets, shaving cream all over, bullet riddled walls, and food items taken. We feel the two guns were taken from a residence in Bay St. Louis," Peterson stated.

The sheriff continued, "We know who the two are and feel they are now in Louisiana."

Investigators Alvin Ladner and Delbert Seay are in charge of the case, Peterson said, with Bay Investigator Matt Karl.

In other police matters, Kenneth B. Demoran, 23, who was recently arrested and charged with the alleged burglary of 15 residences in Hancock County and free on bonds totalling $15,000, has been arrested by Gulfport police on charges of burglary of a dwelling.

A 17-year-old Gulfport male juvenile was arrested Wednesday, according to Gulfport Chief Larkin Smith, as officers responded to a burglary in progress at a beach front residence. The juvenile was arrested following a short chase on foot.

Smith said an investigation revealed the juvenile and Demoran were accomplices.

Demoran's bond in Gulfport was set at $10,000.

Smith said the Gulfport Police Department is currently coordinating a Coast-wide investigation of apparently related gold and silver burglaries.

The investigation also involves the police departments of Biloxi, Long Beach, Pass Christian, the Hancock sheriff's office and Mississippi Highway Patrol investigators.

MARIJUANA BUST—A Louisiana State policeman transfers bales of Columbian marijuana from the freighter Tysford to a semi trailer at the Port Blenville Industrial Park on the East Pearl River near Pearlington Friday. The 50 tons of weed was destined to be destroyed at a Louisiana location, according to George Cazenavette, special agent of the federal Drug Enforcement Agency in New Orleans. The shipment had an estimated street value of $40 to $50 million. The ship apparently ran aground near Shell Beach, La. Wednesday. When Coast Guardsmen attempted to assist the foundering 100-foot vessel, nervous crewmen prompted the Coast Guard to board the motor vessel, thus discovering the contraband. Other agencies involved in the operation included the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, Slickell Police, Hammond Police, U.S. Customs, New Orleans Police, Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, Covington Police, and St. Tammany Parish Sheriff's Department. Chamber group hears state lawmakers

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Representative J.P. Compretta told Chamber of Commerce members, "Trying to predict what the legislature is going to do is like Nash trying to predict on how many days there will be no rain in January," in opening his remarks at the quarterly breakfast of the group Thursday.

Guest speakers Compretta and Senator Martin Smith touched on some of the items to be faced in the 1981 Mississippi Legislature which convenes for only 90 days in January.

Compretta said, "I felt a lot was accomplished when you consider that the 1980 legislature included 60 new members in the House and 50 percent of the Senate members were new."

Both representatives for Hancock County stated that money was going to be a big item as requests for funds already exceed the anticipated revenues.

Smith, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said his committee will review 40 per cent of all bills filed.

One change he instituted last year will continue, "I established a policy to announce all committee hearings 24 hours in advance with the agencies given to the press, so the public would know which bills are to be discussed," Smith stated.

Compretta commented, "I will study very closely the recommendations made by the last Hancock Grand Jury, based on their examination of expenditures by the county school district for emergency repairs at Gulfview School."

"I plan to study their report and pursue some recommendations," the representative said. Smith said he was in complete agreement with Compretta.

Smith said the Senate passed an open meetings law last year but it was not passed by the House.

Smith stated, "The Senate will again take an open meetings bill and the House an open records bill."

"A few years ago we had a Sunshine Law, but all it did was legalize executive sessions."

Smith reported that last year's law only permitted closed meetings for discussions of personnel, litigation, and emergencies. "A new definition of emergencies would be included in the bill, according to the senator."

"Last year we found out that records available to some people were not available to others in the discussions on open records," Smith added.

One item Smith emphasized was that a bill to increase the penalties in drug trafficking would be introduced.

Smith allowed, "Our present laws are very lenient, in comparison to neighboring states."

Both Compretta and Smith touched on the reappraisals being done throughout the state.

High praises were voiced for Hancock County's steps to comply with the federal orders by both political leaders.

Smith stated, "I think Hancock County is approaching the reappraisal better than any other county in the state. They have approached it with a positive attitude. Assessor Edward Murtagh is doing it the most cost effective way with the support of the Board of Supervisors."

Compretta commented, "I have talked to the State Tax Commission. They tell me Hancock will be used as a model county for the state. A lot of counties are dragging their feet. Mr. Murtagh is doing a fine job and is receiving fine support from our Board of Supervisors."

"Our jails are over crowded and over $2 million will be paid counties this year for taking care of state prisoners," Smith reported, adding "Something has to be done."

The senator said he feels a strong restitution bill should be passed to help the victims of crime.

Two arrested for burglary

By BRENT MACEY

Joseph Kyle D'Angelo, 18, of 1615 Thornton Avenue, Gulfport, and a 15-year-old juvenile, were arrested by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department about 7:30 p.m. Monday some five miles west of Waveland on US-90 and charged with receiving stolen property.

The pair, in addition, has been charged with 12 counts of burglary by the L & N Railroad.

Bond is set at $5,000.

D'Angelo is in the Hancock County Jail and the juvenile, a parole violator from the State Training School, is in custody of the Harrison County Family Court.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said the two were apprehended after police had been called to investigate a burglary in the Bayou Phillips area.

He said the youths were mistaken for two other suspects being sought by police in connection with the burglary.

A search found the youths in possession of jewelry and 24 sets of keys to new Ford automobiles.

Peterson said the youths had hopped a freight train from Gulfport to New Orleans, earlier that day. During the trip the youths broke windows in 12 new automobiles on the train and took the keys.

Peterson said the youths admitted breaking the windows and taking the keys which they said they planned to use to steal the cars at a future date.

Peterson said an investigation of the jewelry led to a burglary in the Gentry area of New Orleans, La.

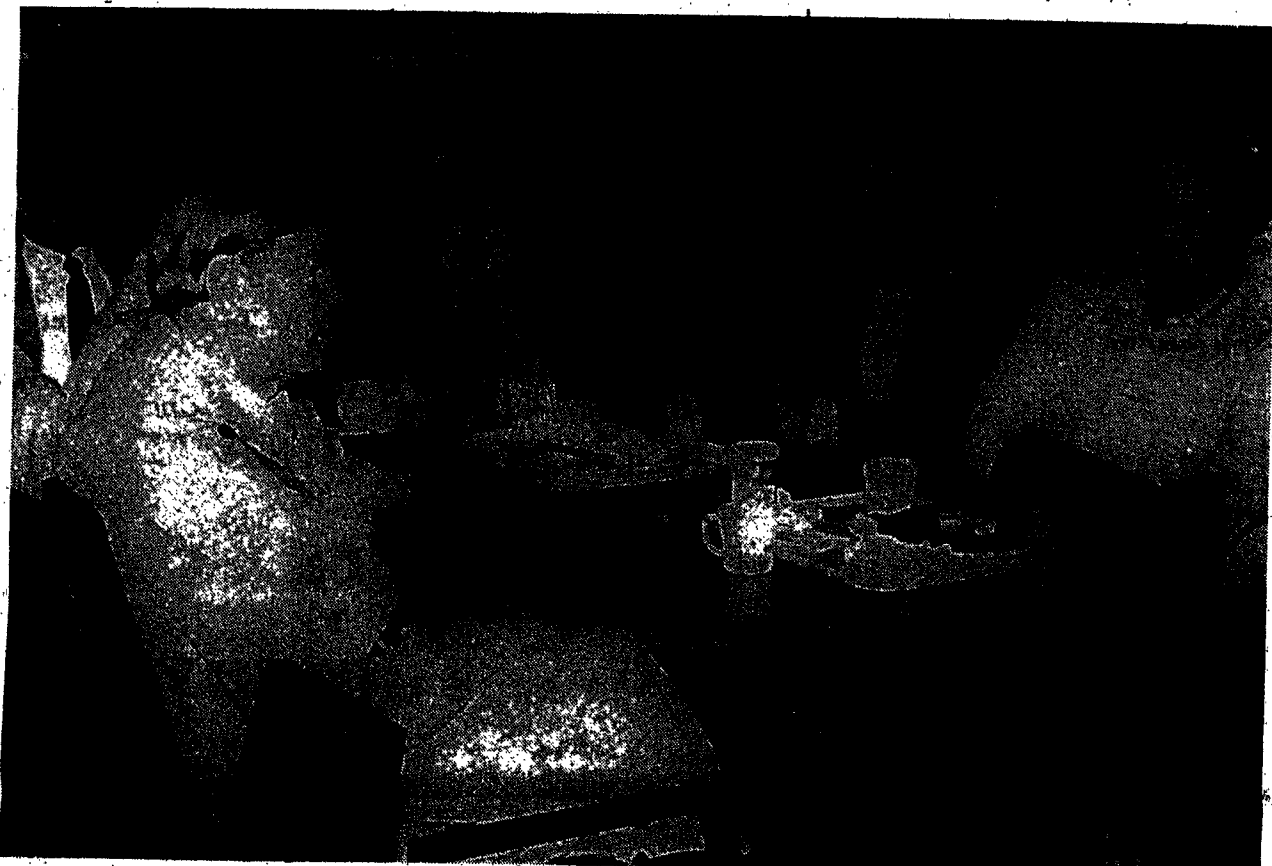

The youths admitted breaking into a trailer on Chef Menteur Highway, five miles east of the Chef Menteur bridge, Peterson said.

The youths are being held pending charges from New Orleans, Peterson said.

According to Peterson, the trailer is located in an area of summer homes. The owners, who must press charges, have not been located, the sheriff added.

The two face a maximum term of five years in prison for each count of burglary, Peterson said.

Bits 'n pieces

The opening of Hancock General's Intensive Care Unit Tuesday is good news for the residents of Hancock County. We are glad to see our Hospital move ahead with this new service which is much needed. Things are looking better and better at our local hospital.

We know the school bands of our community should be happy with the nice donations received from Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139.

The bands can use the money, we are sure, and it will be spent wisely.

We have noticed a big improvement in our bands' performances in the past few years.

Keep up the good work.

We just had a conversation with Bay Fire Chief Andrew Lizana about the Doll and Toy Distribution his department spearheads each year.

Chief Lizana reports he already has 150 kids on his list, so he will need some more funds or toys or a combination of both to complete his program.

The Toy fund, an agency of the United Way, has also received several donations from some Bay St. Louis, businesses and organizations, but they do not have enough to go around for so many deserving children.

Anyone interested can contact Chief Lizana at 467-4736 or visit the Bay fire department.

Some toys are picked up at the fire station, others delivered in the fire truck with assistance from the sheriff's department for children in the county.

Group asks assistance in lung disease fight

Each year notes and letters are received by the Mississippi Lung Association in Christmas Seal mail. Mrs. Allen Edwards of Indianola, president of the Christmas Seal voluntary health organization, said that Mississippians express concern and support of programs to prevent and control lung diseases through contributions and personal messages.

One Mississippian recently wrote: "I don't usually write this type of letter, but when my Christmas Seal arrived this year, I gave them a second look. I have seen this mail arrive through the years, but when it knocks on your door, you don't see it the same way."

"This past March I was hospitalized and was told that I had tuberculosis. I had heard jokes about TB - when people cough - but when it is told to you for real and at age 31 with three children and not knowing where to turn, it is another matter."

"I was able to be treated through the State TB program, but did not know what to expect from my health or state of mind. I tried to find material to read, but there was not much available with the exception of what the Mississippi Lung Association had."

"Being able to stay at home with my family and take medicine, plus have a better understanding about the disease is the greatest way of saying I love you, Mississippi Lung Association."

News Brief

Gov. William Winter recently announced that his office will provide a statewide toll free information and referral telephone service.

The system, called the Governor's Service Line, will assist Mississippians with problems or simply help them get in touch with the right person in the sometimes confusing tangle of state agencies.

"We think this service will be helpful in responding to the 3,000 to 5,000 calls a month that we anticipate getting," Winter said. "We are already getting a great many calls of this kind; it's simply to speed up the process of response and provide better service to the people in this state."

The Governor's Service Line will provide information and research problems for residents in every county of the state, with one counselor specializing in energy-related questions. After hours an answering system will record messages, making the Governor's Service Line available 24 hours a day. Every effort will be made to give callers same-day service, Winter said.

Citizens desiring information or referral to any of the state agencies should call (toll free) 1-800-222-7622 or (Jackson area) 961-4042.

"I am enclosing my contribution. I guess what I am trying to say is, since we never know when or to whom tuberculosis might strike, I do want to help in any way that I can."

"If I can help someone else, my disease will not have been in vain. I thank God for letting this teach me the lesson that I as well as others can be humbled to help our fellowman."

This note from a Christmas Seal contributor conveys the true spirit of Christmas through sharing, Mrs. Edwards said.

"It makes volunteer service to the Mississippi Lung Association a very real matter of 'Life and breath,' and shows in a vivid, personal way the result of our voluntary agency's efforts," she feels.

Elderly Need Less Calories For Health

Nutrient requirements of elderly adults are basically those of younger adults, but fewer calories are needed.

Food high in proteins, minerals and vitamins should be chosen by older people so that the reduced food intake will provide the needed nutrients. Such factors, says an American Medical Association pamphlet, as decreased activity, chronic illness, decreased sensitivity to taste and smell, loss or impairment of teeth, and inadequate income may affect the eating habits of an older adult. Some elderly people simply do not eat enough; calorie and nutrient intakes are too low to maintain health.

Many older people reduce intake of meat without increasing consumption of other protein-rich foods. Calcium and iron intakes are sometimes too low. Milk, cheese, or yogurt should be regular features of the diet of older individuals, because they are excellent sources of protein and calcium. Iron needs can be met by using lean meats, egg yolks, green leafy vegetables, and whole-grain or enriched breads and cereals. Fruits and vegetables are needed each day, for their vitamin C, vitamin A and fiber content.

Those concerned about the cost of food find that there are many ways to obtain foods high in nutrients and low in cost.

For example, canned evaporated milk and nonfat dry milk have the same protein and calcium value as that of fresh fluid milk, and frequently can be substituted for fresh milk in cooking and baking.

The large packages of nonperishable items like sugar, flour, and rice are generally less expensive per pound than are the small packages, and do not lose nutritive value during storage of several months.

Low-cost cuts of meat and fish are as high in nutritive value as are the more expensive items. Thrifty buys are usually available on stew meats, pot roasts, liver, variety meats, and fresh fish in season.

Fairgrounds area homeowner protests shelter location

Dec. 12, 1980
Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Editor,
As a homeowner in the Fairgrounds area, I can fully appreciate Mr. Jack Seuzeneau's letter re the proposed location for an animal shelter.

The Fairgrounds itself is an abomination to the residents of the area and now they wish to saddle us further with an animal shelter.

Mr. Seuzeneau and I both own pets and I am sure wish to support an establishment to help stray and sick animals.

Unfortunately, many of these animals must be killed and I don't believe this shelter should be near Mr. Seuzeneau's home or anyone else's.

I suggest there must be other places away from all homes for this building.

Thank you,
D. K. Orr

Reagan appreciated late Bay man's suggestions

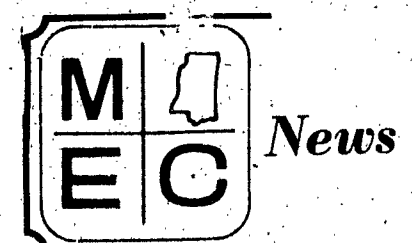

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Friends and relatives of the late Mr. George M. Lusich of BaySide Park who was buried in Bayou LaCroix Cemetery Friday report Mr. Lusich was extremely proud of the following letter he had received from then presidential candidate Ronald Reagan.)

Dear Mr. Lusich:
Thank you very much for your letter. I appreciate your thoughtfulness in writing to share your suggestions, and I will study them carefully.

Again, many thanks.

Purchasing almost any type of food product in the United States is a simple matter. Markets throughout the country offer fully stocked shelves and an almost endless variety of items making a purchase a simple task.

In Moscow, the Russian citizen may have to stand in line for hours to purchase a supply of basic staples Americans take for granted.

Shortages of meat, milk, eggs, and flour - basic food stuffs - are a way of life for these people.

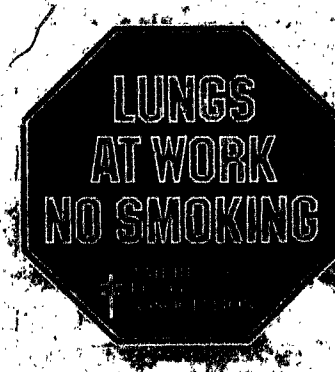

What is missing in their system that we take for granted in ours is a basic ingredient called the "profit system."

The freedom and motivation to make a profit keeps America's free market place working, providing the highest standards of living the world has known.

But profits, a necessary part of the free enterprise system, are misunderstood and the Mississippi Economic Council's American Enterprise Center is seeking to re-educate Mississippians to provide an understanding and appreciation of the free enterprise system.

From business profits comes workers' salaries, taxes for government to provide services to its citizens, and money for business expansion and improvements. Without profits the system does not work.

It looks like we are going to have a lot of Christmas goods left on the shelf after the big day. When should we announce our After Christmas Sale? We Over Ordered This Year.

Dear WOOTY: I don't know how you could possibly know at this time that you overordered, but taking your word for that let's proceed to the question as you posed it.

I assume you will be giving some good discounts after Christmas. Therefore, it would be prudent for your customers to wait until then to buy the merchandise. But unfortunately for most of them, this is not possible for they must purchase gift items prior to Christmas day.

First, let's look at what this really means to you in terms of customer relations. You are requiring those who must purchase now to pay a much higher price than do those who can wait a day or so longer.

Even those who can afford the higher price will no doubt resent having to pay it.

Then, let's look at the situation in terms of what it means to you and your overall profits.

If you start the sale right now, today, during the first week in December, what would it mean?

First, you could use a lower mark down and still get better results than after Christmas. For, obviously, there is an increasingly greater demand now than there will be later, regardless of price.

Secondly, you will bring new people in your store. And they will be there to Christmas shop, rather than pick over already picked over bargains. You will get increased sales all over the store, and not just of the advertised specials.

Thirdly, you will be able to give some real bargains after Christmas. Your expenses will be more than made on the merchandise in the pre-Christmas sale, and you can really move it after Christmas for what it is - picked over and left over goods.

Fourth, you will build new loyalties with old customers who will appreciate the before Christmas savings.

As we have noted before, it is good business to promote sales while demand is high. If you sit back and wait for the customers to come they will - but in smaller and smaller numbers.

In today's mobile society there is no such thing as a captive audience. As some cowboy or someone once put it, "Strike while the iron is hot," whatever that might mean.

Marijuana heads for destruction

townhouses would be fringed with a 50-foot greenbelt of shrubbery and trees to focus everything inside toward the marina.

"It would give you the impression when you entered that you have entered a marina," Brown said.

He stated approximately 354,000 cubic yards of initial dredging would be required to build the marina and channel to the Jourdan River.

Brown said only seven-tenths of an acre of marsh land would be destroyed, while earth removed by dredging would be used to build up land around the basin for future development.

Brown said areas outside the marina, east of Engman Avenue, were being considered for the development of homes.

"We would like to take a zero lot line approach to the townhouses inside the green belt area," Brown said.

He explained the conceptual plans call for staggered units sharing common walls and running along the top of embankments.

"Such a design will preserve more of the natural beauty in the area by leaving more open space," Brown said. He contrasted his concept with a 'hump back' appearance of individual homes built on separate mounds of earth.

Brown said the developers are considering a number of options but that final approval will rest with the Hancock County Planning Commission

If all state and federal permits were granted.

Brown stated plans for the marina also include a dry boat storage area, parking, fueling station, launch ramp, and everything that would make this marina first class.

Victor Frankiewicz Jr., assistant to Leard at the Bureau of Marine Resources, said the input from the public hearing and research now being done at the Bureau will determine if the Wildlife Conservation Commission in Gulfport approves the use plan change.

Frankiewicz said his office is currently evaluating data on the effects other marinas throughout the country have had on wetland areas.

He said other state and federal agencies are aware of the Jan. 6 public hearing, but that they will not pay strict attention to the marina proposal until the use plan change is finalized in favor of the change to a 'C' district.

The other agencies which may study the matter closely in the future and give recommendations to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers about granting a possible construction permit include:

Environmental Protection Agency; National Marine Fisheries, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Mississippi Bureau of Pollution Control and the Corps of Engineers.

According to Frankiewicz, each agency is responsible for studying different elements of the environment which might be affected by the development.

New tenant likely at Port Bienville

By BRENT MACEY
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is considering dropping a law suit against International Demolition after Aggregate Barge Service of Jackson County Thursday expressed intentions of acquiring International's Port Bienville property.

The commission had decided at last month's meeting to file suit against International Demolition in order to repossess Lot 47 in the industrial park near Pearlinton.

The commission noted at its previous meeting International Demolition had not met specified employment density standards nor built any permanent structures.

International was also deemed in violation of other covenants established on the land when leased to International in 1977.

Wynn Clark, attorney for ABS, told the commission his client is "very interested" in buying the site from International Demolition.

"I would like some sort of resolution from this council tonight guaranteeing that my company will not be buying a law suit if we purchase Lot 47 in the industrial site," Clark stated.

"We do not want to be held accountable for past good or bad deeds from another company," Commission members stated the company would not be accountable for past actions and asked if ABS was aware of the covenant restrictions on the land.

Clark said he had seen the restrictions and the company was willing to abide by them.

"I simply do not want to counsel my clients to invest a lot of money with a cloud hanging overhead," Clark said.

Lucien Gex, representing the Third National Bank of Nashville which holds the first deed of trust to International Demolition, said the bank would foreclose on a loan to International Demolition and repossess Lot 47, used as collateral for the loan, if International Demolition went into litigation with the commission over the property.

International Demolition's attorney Tom Stennis said International Demolition had changed ownership recently and the new owners and managers had decided not to continue operations in Hancock County, and the company was now looking at a prospective buyer in ABS.

"We don't want a law suit," Stennis said. "All we want to do is go in peace."

J.W. Flint, stockholder and spokesman for ABS, said, "We want to consummate the plan tonight. We have to go to work. We can't wait 30 days."

Flint said employment could begin immediately for welders, fitters and laborers in a salvage and scrap-metal yard and also in a stock pile area for shell and aggregate received by rail from Mexico.

Flint said he would be able to employ six to 10 people on a permanent basis within 60 days but that future employment is "difficult to project."

Flint said ABS is willing to put $60 million into the operation immediately.

Construction work at the site in the future to provide slips enabling barge repair and remodification work might enable us to employ 25 to 30 people in two years, Flint estimated.

ABS had no plans detailing a future program proposals for site development to show the commission.

Flint said family illness had prevented the company from drawing up a definite plan.

Flint stated ABS is a new company run by immediate family members who also operate nine businesses in Jackson County.

After a short executive session, the board offered to allow ABS to purchase 15 acres of the 47 acre lot. The rest, according to Commission President Wilson Webre, would be purchased back by the Commission.

Flint would not accept the proposal. He stated ABS wanted to buy the entire 47 acre lot and the 1,750 feet of canal frontage.

The commission recessed until next Thursday to continue negotiations with ABS.

In other business the commission:

—Authorized a transfer of $7,147 from the Industrial Park Revenue Fund to the Industrial Park Bond Fund for payment of interest to Economic Development Administration; —Authorized a transfer of $3,000 from Railroad Operating to Railroad Five Savings Account;

—Authorized advertising for bids for improvements in the Stennis International Airport, including blacktopping runways, water system construction and sewer cross-over work;

—Authorized conditional payment of $4,656 from the airport construction fund to Advance Development Engineers for preliminary design work on the Stennis International Airport project, under the condition the project is approved by the E.D.A.;

Authorized a new account to be opened with Hancock Bank to be known as the Industrial Airpark Account.

OUR PRECIOUS FREEDOMS

Make Sure You Stay In The Drivers Seat

When they take away your right to drive, there'll be fewer reasons to be jolly.

There'll be fewer family picnics. Not to mention fewer fishing trips, music lessons, vacations, movies, golf games, museums, football games, symphonies, and friends outside walking distance.

And, the more you keep subtracting, the more frightening it gets. Because what you're finally left with is a reduction in our quality of life. A quality that can only come from our freedom to pursue individual interests to get where we want, when we want.

Is our right to drive really in danger? Under the Department of Energy Emergency Plan, the Automobile Foundation warns, we would receive a vehicle sticker restricting us from driving one, two, or three days a week.

Consider government actions, too. Are the regulatory agencies doing enough to find alternative energy sources of fuel and to help make our country more energy sufficient?

INTENSIVE CARE UNIT—Hancock General Hospital will open a four bed Intensive Care Unit (ICU) at 7 a.m. Tues., Dec. 16. Intensive Care..... CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

Jon Holderman, ICU nursing Supervisor, with guidance from the medical staff at HGH.

Rev. Charles Johnson, president of the hospital board of trustees, said Thursday, "This new intensive care unit is something our doctors have wanted for sometime. It will mean a lot to have this unit for our critically ill residents."

"We have a greater use of a unit like this because we have a higher percentage of retired residents than most communities. I think we are going at it in a real professional way," Father Johnson added.

Savage, reports considerable face lifting has been completed in recent months. She was acting nursing director in September and became director in November.

Ms. Savage reported, "Things are looking good at Hancock General. I have hired 11 registered nurses since I took over as acting director and only lost one registered nurse."

Ms. Savage is a graduate of the School of Nursing at Charity in New Orleans and practiced for 10 years in hospitals there before coming to Bay St. Louis.

She was employed as a registered nurse at Hancock General in July, 1979. Savage reports, "The equipment being used in the new unit was already at Hancock General. A long term plan of purchasing additional equipment has been set as it becomes available."

Phil Langston, who was recently hired as hospital administrator will assume that position on Jan. 10. Brooks now serves as interim administrator.

Hancock General has 84 beds and an active emergency room—with an average of 500 patients per month using the facility.

Dr. Joseph Lee, general surgeon, serves as chief of staff at HGH with eight doctors on the active medical staff.

The active staff includes Dr. Lee; Dr. Erlinda Alcala; obstetrics and gynecology; Dr. Sidney A. Chevils, family practice; Dr. John B. Levins, family practice; Dr. Helen McGhee, family practice; Dr. Joseph Nordruff, anesthesiologist; Dr. John D. Rutherford III, family practice and pathology and Dr. M.J. Wolfe Sr., family practice.

The associate medical staff includes Dr. William Hill, internal medicine and cardiology; Dr. David Byrnes, general surgery; and Dr. Bertran Sy, pediatrics.

The consulting medical staff at Hancock General includes 16 additional doctors.

A ribbon cutting ceremony limited to county and city officials will be held at 1 p.m. Monday in connection with opening of the new intensive care unit.

Savage reported, "The reason this grand opening is not being opened to everyone is because of infection control. This is very important for this unit and as you know many people have colds at this time."

There will be several open house programs at Hancock General in the coming year, according to the director of nurses.

Sellier commented, "I was only 10-years-old when my father started here. Uncle Charlie's Bar was across the street from the theatre. A fueling operation for boats was at the end of the Legion pier operated by the father of Miss Julia Blaise. A grocery store was between Hille's and Citizen Street, this area has been commercial for goodness knows how many years."

Sellier reported that his father died in 1941 and he still had two years of school left. He said that he attended school in the day and ran the business at night and on weekends to support his mother and sister.

Mrs. Irene Hille, a family member of Hille Oldsmobile, Inc. at 604 S. Beach, said she and her late husband opened the Oldsmobile dealership over 44 years ago.

Ms. Hille added, "There was Edwards Ford Motors on Washington in the middle of the first block. All we want is for the zoning to remain the way it has for so many years and that is commercial."

Ms. Hille recalled that when the Gold Medal Bakery, corner of Hancock and Washington, had burned several years ago, the owners were not allowed to rebuild and moved their operation to Pass Christian.

"We hear there are new zoning maps, we are anxious to see them, this was the beginning of the business district of Bay St. Louis with factories and all types of businesses. We would like to get more details," Mrs. Hille commented.

A group of the merchants appeared at the last meeting of the Bay Council to discuss the issue as it was to appear in a Planning and Zoning report to the Council, but were told the minutes were not ready. They were told it would be ready for the Tuesday, Dec. 16 meeting.

The Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139, of which Sellier is a member, voted unanimously at a Thursday night meeting for Commander Henry Prevou attend the this week's of the Council meeting on behalf of the Legion.

The Legion's home was across the street from the theatre and destroyed by Hurricane Camille, but the veteran's organization still owns the property.

St. Stanislaus takes PRC tournament

By Randy Ponder
The St. Stanislaus basketball team, under the direction of rookie coach Steve North, recently won the Pascagoula River Conference Basketball Tournament held at the St. Martin High School.

North's troops claimed the title by defeating the Bay High Tigers, 59-45 in the championship game.

In that game, center Joe Sala was the high scorer, pouring in 20 points for the Rock-A-Chaws.

Teammates Dave McDonnell accounted for 11 points and Billy Waits had 9.

High man for the Tigers was Roger Woodall with 12.

To reach the finals of the single elimination tournament, the Rocks defeated both the host team, St. Martin, and the d'Iberville Warriors.

St. Stanislaus edged St. Martin 49-42 in the first round of the tournament.

High scorers for the Rocks were Joe Sala - 15, Rodney Corr - 14, and Dave McDonnell - 10.

D'Iberville was another tough opponent, but St. Stanislaus managed a 72-67 decision. Rodney Corr was high scorer in the contest with 30 points. He was followed by teammates Joe Sala - 14, Brian Logan - 12, and Dave McDonnell - 10.

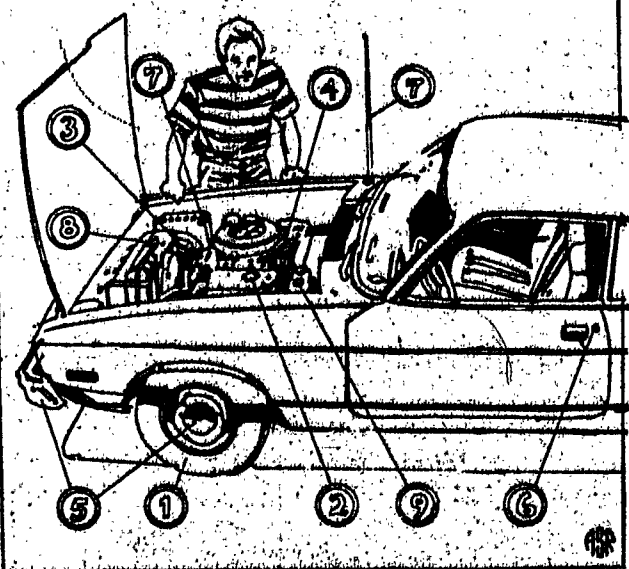

The Bay High Tigers defeated Pass Christian, 58-56 in overtime, and Vancleave 53-46, to reach the finals.

In the Pass Christian game, the Tigers were led by Roger Woodall with 16 points and Don Acker with 12. Darrell Robinson added 11.

Against Vancleave, both Woodall and Andy Barrett racked up 13 points. They were followed by Robinson and Don Diboll with 9 each. Don Acker tossed in 8 points.

"We won because we controlled the boards," Rock's coach Steve North commented. "Our defense was a dominate factor in the games."

Maintain Your Auto

Today's drivers, both commuters and weekend travelers, know the importance of ongoing auto care. Many auto and RV problems can be prevented by following a regular maintenance schedule. For example:

• Be sure tires are filled to the correct pressure (1). Check for worn treads and incorrect alignment.

• Change oil and lube the car on a regular basis (2).

• Check for worn fan belts and radiator hoses (3).

• Use an all-around maintenance aid, such as WD-40, in the care of your auto.

This product is a lubricant, penetrant, rust preventer, water displacer and cleaner. It can be used to dry wet ignition systems (4), prevent rust on chrome and other metal surfaces (5), lubricate locks and sticky door handles (6), and clean and protect dirty battery terminals and radio antennas (7).

• Use antifreeze to help prevent frozen radiators (8). Also flush radiator periodically to drain rusty, dirty water.

• Make weekly checks of oil, brake, power steering and battery fluid levels (9).

• If you notice any problem which can't easily be corrected, consult a qualified mechanic.

By practicing this preventive maintenance, you can prolong the life of your car and avoid costly repairs bills.

"A CHRISTMAS CAROL"

Biloxi newspapers, Coliseum present a Christmas Carol

A new stage musical adaptation of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" will be presented 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 21 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum.

This second national tour of the Bill Fegan Attractions, Inc. produced show is sponsored by the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Commission and Gulf Publishing Co. for its appearance on the Gulf Coast.

Written by Charles Jones, artistic director of the Omaha Community Playhouse in Omaha, Neb., the production features an ensemble of 35 actors, singers, and musicians presenting a full array of traditional Christmas carols.

The carols are interwoven within the classic story of Ebenezer Scrooge and all of the beloved characters from Dickens' novella of the 1800's. "I think of this adaptation of 'A Christmas Carol' as a masque," said Jones. "The songs do not move the story forward. They stand apart from the text. Each carol in the show was chosen for the dramatic atmosphere it contributed to the total evening. The songs are traditional but the scoring by musical arranger John Bennett is contemporary and exquisitely beautiful," he added. Tickets are half price for pre-schoolers and students and there is a group discount for a purchase of ten or more. The tickets are available at the Coliseum Box Office, Sears Edgewater, Oberlies Gulfport and Ocean Springs, Beautiful Noise North Biloxi, and Byrds Music Pascagoula.

Latest Minacapelli production to be featured New Year's Eve

Minacapelli's Dinner Theater in Slidell will preview Move Over Mrs. Markham Dec. 19, 20 and 21.

This British farce takes place in the apartment of Joanna and Phillip Markham played by Janet Shea Kennedy and Ron Gural.

Henry Lodge (Ken Valentino) is Phillip's partner in a children's publishing firm. Linda Lodge (Syndria Mecham) is Joanna's best friend.

Phillip and Joanna are going to a publishers dinner so Henry and Linda have arranged to meet a telephone operator played by Susan Shumate and a management consultant (Steve Cefalu), respectively, in the Markham apartment.

In addition, an interior decorator (Herbie Lanoux) plans to rendezvous with the Markham's maid Sylvia, played by Christine Jones.

When Phillip decides the Markhams will stay home, hilarious pandemonium breaks out.

Into this comic madhouse enters Olive Harriet Smythe (Mim Babin), a rich famous and prolific writer of children's books.

She is looking for new publishers and has decided on Markham and Lodge. After mistaking Allister the decorator for Phillip Markham everyone enters into a raucous charade to get Miss Smythe to sign a publishing contract.

All ends happily.

A special New Year's Eve Gala is planned at the theater with the show running Thursdays through Sundays until Feb. 8.

Buffet is served from 6:30-8 p.m. Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays with show at 8:30 p.m.

Sunday buffet begins at 1 p.m. with show at 2:30 p.m.

New Year's Eve Gala buffet is from 7:30 to 9 p.m. with 9:30 p.m. show and a special midnight appearance by Mark Twain.

THE MICROWAVE HOTLINE

A Central Information Source On Microwave Cooking

By Pat Quarles, Director

Microwave Information Center of Campbell Soup Company

After years of research, development and industrial-level usage and testing, microwave technology has now become a major factor in home food preparation. Currently, it is estimated that microwave ovens are used in over 13 million households. And industry sources have predicted that at least another 10 million more will be purchased by 1985.

Whether you're one of the millions of homemakers already cooking with a microwave oven or just considering purchasing one for your home, you probably have questions about the capabilities, features and techniques of this new cooking method. Now there's a central help source for consumers offering comprehensive information on microwave cooking - The Microwave Information Center of Campbell Soup Company.

The Center, located at corporate headquarters in Camden, New Jersey, combines a research lab, university-style forum and cooking institute. Among the services provided by the facility are:

- A comprehensive library on microwave cooking.

- An open door to a staff of professional home economists trained and equipped to answer questions on all aspects

As a fully-staffed central clearinghouse, the Center is designed to monitor microwave trends, investigate potential problems and keep abreast of changing information needs. In addition to handling consumer information requests, the Center will undertake the dissemination of current, up-to-date data on microwave technology to the media, government and industry.

If you have any questions, or wish to receive additional material on microwave cooking, send your name and address to: The Microwave Information Center,

P.O. Box 530, Jackson, MS 39205.

TIPPAN CO. "The sunshine and warmer temperature have been great on winter pastures and cereal crops."

UNION CO. "Wet soils slowed harvest but by end of week harvesting became near complete."

SHARKEY CO. "Fair skies allowed farmers to complete crop harvest."

CARROLL CO. "Soil sampling has gotten off to its fastest start. I look for this year to be the largest of record. Permanent pastures show the damage done from drought. Very little frosted grass remains."

CHOCTAW CO. "Farmers were back in the fields this week in an effort to complete harvest before the next rain."

ADAMS CO. "Some farmers are pulling cattle off winter grazing pastures, especially those in bottom area on too wet soil. Cattle would be destroying probably more than they are eating."

Quiet Worrier

Q. I have a problem in my job. I go through the same boring routine work every day. Along with my work I feel a lot of tension, worry and anxiety. I am a very insecure and quiet man. I work in a restaurant. Can you help me find a solution?

A. We strongly contend that every day can be a good day if you practice the right mental attitude right from the first moment you wake up. There are techniques for setting your mind into new patterns of thinking, for acting out those thought patterns and for developing a positive thought process.

With such techniques, even the most boring, routine job can take on meaning. And, somehow a good mental approach pushes tension and anxiety right out of the picture.

We will send you — and anyone else who writes to us at Box 500, Pawling, N. Y. 12564 — a copy of our newest booklet, How to Have a Good Day Every Day. Try-out its action techniques and you'll see there is a solution to your problem.

12 years to learn
Q. I read with much interest your advice to the lady concerned about "ME" in her marriage. We've been married 18 years, and it took us about 12 to figure this out — to return an unkind word with a kind one, to place your partner's wishes above your own in small everyday ways is what it's all about.

I hope our children will be able to learn this earlier in their marriages than did we. We are both Christians and did not realize these Bible principles and put them into practice earlier. Please send your booklet, The Secret of a Happy Marriage.

A. Congratulations on learning to eliminate or subordinate the "me" disease in marriage. You have mastered the principle of successful marriage, and it is altogether likely your children will learn from you. I am sending you, and will be glad to send to anyone requesting it, our booklet, The Secret of a Happy Marriage.

Understanding man?

Q. Where does a respectable lady find a companion or someone nice to have clean fun with? I am a widow (age 42), and I get so lonesome. There are spots that my three children just can't fill. I met this one guy, seemed to be real nice. I told him I didn't like drinking or night clubs, and he seemed to be very understanding. He came to my home several times, but then all at once he stopped calling. I just don't know what I did to make him do like this. Please help.

A. Go to your church to find good, clean fun, like-minded people and spiritual growth. Become involved in the program. Be active in groups and in the ministry of the church. You won't have lonely moments anymore because you'll be sharing in God's great work and making deep friendships at the same time. And, just maybe, a really understanding man will be among your new friends!

Pulpit Points

BY DR. L.S.
WALKER

Worship with God's people in God's house is more than an obligation, it is an exciting and challenging privilege.

"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord" — Psalms 122:1 These were the words of David, king in Israel, and called "a man after his (God's) own heart" — I Samuel 13:14.

Those who attend church services with sincerity, understanding and purpose are wisely and joyfully sharing one of life's most rewarding privileges.

David, Israel's great shepherd king, sweet singer, psalmist, composer and leader, had many responsibilities. He was busy; but never too busy to go into the house of the Lord. It was an appointment he looked forward to with joyful anticipation.

George Meeklenburg thought of it in this way: When you attend church, it's not an ordinary act. It is something tremendous. You take a stand for faith and for spiritual interpretation of life. You testify and witness to the faith that is in you.

When you attend church you take the side of the angels, you count on the side of the spiritual, you tell the world you believe in God and eternity and immortality, and that's tremendous!

When you attend church you challenge all that is evil, all that is contrary to the will of God. When you attend church you say to the whole world that you are against lying, cheating, immorality, drunkenness, war and everything that hurts human beings.

When you attend church you tell your neighbors who see you go that you are not simply an earth creature, that you are not giving up all your time to earthly pleasures, but that you are seeking something higher.

When you attend church you salute Christ and His Church. You appreciate what the Church has done for humanity.

When you attend church you go to God's house to adore, to worship, to praise. You become a part of that host that has been worshipping God down through the ages. You have been caught up in the Spirit.

Jesus, all the apostles, and the early disciples, as well as millions of Believers throughout the centuries, have all been church people... with strong convictions about their church and its place and purpose in their lives.

"The fool had said in his heart, There is no God..." — Psalms 14:1, 53:1. What is your excuse for disregarding the services of God's house?

When Nehemiah and his compatriots out of Babylonian captivity had been so richly blessed in their labors of restoration of the City's walls at old Jerusalem, despite any and all opposition, taking God and His blessings for granted, as men so often do, multitudes were not attending the services in the House of God. This condition being of serious concern to Nehemiah, cried out, saying, "Why is the house of God forsaken?" — Nehemiah 13:11.

This matter has been of great concern to God's servants in every age. The writer to the Hebrews said: "Let us hold fast our profession of our faith; (for he is faithful that promised;) and let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: NOT FORSAKING THE ASSEMBLING OF OURSELVES TOGETHER, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as we see the day approaching" — Hebrews 10:23-25.
